HISTORY

Key Learning

The Romans invaded Britain successfully in AD 43 under Claudius.

Julius Caesar tried to invade earlier but was not successful. The Romans built roads, towns, and changed life in Britain. Boudica led a rebellion against the Romans.

Boudica's rebellion failed, but it is still remembered as an important event.

GEOGRAPHY

Key Learning

Morecambe is a coastal town in Lancashire in north-west England. Morecambe is located on Morecambe Bay.

The town has both human features (shops, housing, promenade) and physical features (sea, coast). Land use in Morecambe has changed over time, especially tourism. Coastal features are shaped by natural processes such as tides and erosion.
